

What's Your Attendance?

97%

Less than 6 days absence

Excellent attendance! Very well done. You will most certainly get the best grades you can achieve which will lead to better opportunities for college, university or work.

10 days absence

You are likely to achieve good grades and have opportunities for college, university or work. However, you could still improve your attendance, because statistics at Acklam Grange School show that you could be up to half a G.C.S.E. grade below your potential.

95%

90%

19 days absence

You are missing almost four weeks of schooling. This is equal to half a day's absence each week. It is going to be difficult for you to achieve your best and reach your full potential – in fact statistics at Acklam Grange School show that you could be up to three-quarters of a G.C.S.E. grade below your potential.

29 days absence

You are missing six weeks of schooling. It will be very difficult for you to keep up with your work and you are unlikely to achieve your best. You will be targeted as a persistent absentee under a government system, which could result in your parent/ carer being fined. Furthermore, statistics at Acklam Grange School show that you could be up to a whole G.C.S.E. grade below your potential.

85%

80%

38 days absence

You are missing a year of schooling over the five years of secondary school. It will be almost impossible for you to keep up with your work. Your parent/ carer could be issued with a fine or taken to court for poor attendance. You also need to be aware that statistics at Acklam Grange School show that you could be up to one and a half G.C.S.E. grades below your potential.

Acklam Grange School